

Table with multiple columns containing job titles, duties, and classification codes. The table is organized into sections by industry or department, with each entry detailing specific tasks and associated codes.